The 1st Annual Police K-9

Classic Car Show

Officer Greg Castillo and Corporal Paul Grimes with their canine partners Eddie and Dax

K-9 UNIT HISTORY

In 2007 the Colton Police Department recognized the need for canines in a city our size. Up until then, the department would request canines from surrounding police departments, which delayed response times. By July 2008, Corporal Paul Grimes and Officer Greg Castillo, together with their canine partners Dax and Eddie, were on the streets of Colton protecting the citizens of our community.

FUNCTIONS

Both of our canines and their handlers have attended specialized training. Dax and Eddie are certified in Patrol and Narcotic detection. Both dogs are able to track suspects, find missing persons, locate evidence discarded by fleeing suspects, and find narcotics that are hidden. Currently, both canines and their handlers are assigned to patrol. They are very honored to protect and serve the citizens of Colton.

ESTIMATED COST OF THE K-9 UNIT

The chart below reflects the estimated costs of operating a K-9 unit. The initial purchase and training of one Police Service Dog is approximately $15,000, plus another $3,500 per year per dog for maintenance, training, food, equipment, and healthcare. Our partners will soon retire, which will require significant upfront costs for the purchase and initial training of new dogs.

EXPENSES

- Purchase of a Police Service Dog (untrained) $7,500
- Basic K-9 Patrol Training $3,500
- Narcotic/Explosive Detection Training $4,000
- Hard Surface Tracking Training $3,000
- Food (per dog/per year) $1,500
- Maintenance Training (per dog/per year) $1,250
- Equipment / Supplies (per dog/per year) $500
- Vet / Healthcare Services (per dog/per year) $300
- The security of a K-9 search team finding the hidden suspect in your community: Priceless!
